EXPENSES TO ITS REVENUE

Millions of Dollars Slashed Off Appropriation Bills in Legislature.

CUT SCHOOL APPROPRIATION

Finance Committees Frown on Building Program for Next Two Years.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—Wisconsin will live with in its income during the next two years.

The appropriations raised for passage by the joint finance committee of the legislature aggregate $48,438, $13.11. The estimated income will be in excess of this total approximately $1,000,000.

The committee Wednesday reported out the larger budget bills and also recommended the killing of all tax boosting bills on the ground there was no necessity for additional revenue at this time.

The appropriation totals are:

1921-1922—$24,040,345.11.
1922-1923—$24,397,968.00.

The budgets exclude all appropriations from the general fund for high way purposes. Bills are now under consideration in the two houses which would raise money necessary to continue the highway construction plan from an automobile valuation tax. It passed, this legislation would reduce the general property tax of the state $1,700,000 and relieve the general fund of an expense of $355,000 annually.

Appropriations cut

The major appropriation bills indicate much cutting and slashing by the joint finance committee. The budgets were reduced millions of dollars when the committee decided against all new construction.

More than $3,000,000 was lopped off
the University of Wisconsin budget by the committee's refusal to sanction
a building program during the coming biennium.

The aggregate of the two year appropriations to the university reached more than $10,000,000.

The specific appropriations are $2, 886,835 for 1921-1922 and $4,032,835
for 1922-1923. The revolving fund which includes tuition fees, etc., is also appropriated and totals $2,184,056
for the two years.

The aggregate appropriations to the state board of control for the operation of all the state's charitable and penal institutions is $10,115,577 for the two years. This total includes the revolving funds amounting to $2, 030,300.

Normals Get Big Sums

The aggregate appropriations for the normal school is $3,550,761.11. The totals for the biennium for each of the normals is:

East Chiana, $210,150; Lacrosse, $230,
415; Milwaukee, $615,255; Oshkosh,
$381,850; Platteville, $263,717; River
Falls, $264,539; Stevens Point, $351,
111; Superior, $289,455; Whitewater, $335,569.

Other small appropriation bills may come before the committee but these will not aggregate to materially change the grand totals, Chairman
Nye, of the joint finance committee, said Wednesday.

The bills will be pushed through the two houses as rapidly as possible.
Few changes are expected to be made in the totals on the floor.

U. S. SEEKS FARM
PRODUCT GOUGERS

Commission of Ten Is Appointed to Run Down Profiteer Machinery.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The United States took up the hunt Wednesday for the profiteer in agricultural products.

The most important matter before the joint commission of agricultural inquiry, created by the Lenroot resolution, effective Wednesday, was the chasing down of the man who is getting away with the agricultural swing policy for the farming industry is expected to develop from the searches of the commission of ten created after long conference between farm organizations and congressional leaders to do away with piecemeal investigation and emergency legislation.
The ten congressmen will investigate:
Causes of present conditions in agriculture.

The cause of difference between price paid the producer and charged to the consumer.

The comparative condition of other industries.

The relation between farm prices and prices of other commodities.

Banking and financial resources and credits affecting agriculture.

Marketing and transportation facilities.

The ten members of the commission will be selected from the house and senate, five by the speaker and five by the vice president, and according to present plans will organize immediately.

Subcommittees on marketing,
finance, transportation and distribution
probably will be assigned to investigating these fields.

ED FOR MURDER

Three generations of women stand indicted on first degree counts for the murder of Dan Kaber, publisher, in his Lakewood home, near Cleveland, July 18, 1919. The circumstance is unique in the annals of American criminology.

The women are Mrs. Eva Kaber (center) widow of the murdered man, her daughter by a former marriage,
Marian McArdle, 19, (left) and Mrs.
Kaber's mother, Mrs. Mary Brickel, 69, (right).

Kaber, an invalid, was stabbed 24 times in his bed at night. Enough arsonic was found in his stomach to have killed three men.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Harding
today told Representative Mondell, Republican leader of the house, that he was well satisfied with the resolution proposed by the house concurring
in the executive's views on disarmament and the prospect now is that the senate which adopted the Borah amendment will accept the house Substitute.

What might have been a disagreeable situation as between the two houses has been avoided by the fact of the Republican leaders in the house who made the disarmament resolution sufficiently broad as to carry weight in international councils. The president was told by Mr. Mondell that the house felt very strongly that the money it had appropriated for the navy was quite sufficient and that members did not look with friendly eyes on the increases made in the sea army. The naval bill now is in a conference between the two houses and while it looks as if a compromise will be worked out, Mr. Harding may be called upon to adjust the differences as to naval appropriations. If the conferences do not agree and Mr. Harding is called upon to add an embarrassing situation will arise for the executive.
It will be the first time that the president will have before him the concrete question of reduction of armaments. He has thus far expressed himself in general terms and has not gone beyond the expression that
"America must not disarm alone."

Nevertheless there is a considerable sentiment in congress to the effect that America should make her serious disarmament square with her performance and that the time to give the world in example is the present when all eyes are turned on the American congress.

The question as to what the point is to which armaments may be reduced consistent with domestic safety is entirely too broad and too controversial to expect agreement in congress at this stage of the disarmament discussion when other nations have not given evidence of the lengths to which they are willing to go in reducing armament. Accordingly Mr.
Harding is anxious to maintain America's naval and military program for the present while at the same time he believes he has done his duty in approaching the other powers to determine what may be agreed upon with respect to a suspension of naval construction. The whole thing is a preliminary stage where the American view has been sent to Ambassador Harvey
so that it may be informally communicated to the other governments at the supreme council's next meeting.

features of the dry enforcement bill,

New York.—Detectives hunting the murderer of Daniel Kaber, wealthy Cleveland publisher.

Eau Claire.—A man and woman involved in a murder case. The man told more about the actual murder than three women now under arrest. A homicide squad led by Captain Arthur Carney, was tracing the couple. They said they had reason to believe the man was the actual assassin and the woman his accomplice.

Searchers held the theory that Kaber was murdered by a hired assassin who attempted to rig up a fake robbery to conceal his crimes.

It was pointed out the two women—
Miss Marian McArdle and her mother, Mrs. Daniel Kaber—held here, and the grandmother, held in Cleveland, have never been accused of the actual stabbing.

The New York trail to the slayer was taken up when a curious Syrian razor said to have disappeared from the Kaber home the night of the killing, was found in a New York pawn shop.

By United Press Leased Wire
Seymour, Ind.—Three trainmen were killed and two were badly scalded by escaping steam when a fast Baltimore and Ohio freight train was wrecked at Medora, west of here early Wednesday.

All of the trainmen lived in Seymour.

The dead: Engineer Hugo Pfeister, Freeman Tom Hill, brakeman Harry Mc Culley.

Engineer Medford Downing and Freeman William Harding, on the second engine of the train, were scalded by the steam and are in a serious condition.

The train, which is the fastest freight between Cincinnati and St.
Louis, split a switch at Medora and seventeen cars of merchandise including five cars of livestock, were plunged into the wreckage.

in the house Wednesday by Representative Galvin of Massachusetts.

The resolution prohibits the fight for the world's championship in any state until war fighters are rewarded.

In his resolution Galvin, a former Harvard football star, attacks Dempsey as "a big bum who dodged the

PENALIZE BOAT COMPANIES

Author of Immigration Restriction
Bill Considering
New Law.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—If additional legislation is necessary to meet situations such as that created by the 5,000
Italian immigrants held in New York.
Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee, declared Wednesday he will introduce a bill to penalize steamship companies for bringing over more immigrants than the 3 per cent restriction law allows.

"The present law is perfectly clear on the number of immigrants to be admitted and there is no excuse for mistakes," he said.

New York.—Jammed in the holds of two ships in New York harbor Wednesday were thousands of immigrants who must live for weeks like penned up cattle, defenseless against threatening disease.

Fleeble old women from Italy, half clad children from Czechoslovakia, refugees from hunger-stricken central Europe—all ill-kempt and without a bath for months—are packed in ships where they must be held because of the new immigration tangle.

Commissioner Fred A. Willis appealed Wednesday to authorities in Washington for immediate assistance. He asked congress to pass an amendment to the new immigration law providing for care of these immigrants.

The congestion has been caused by ship companies who have failed in the race for New York with thousands whom they hoped to push through before the new law restricting immigration to 3 per cent of the resident population of nationalities in the United States went into effect.

With the law only five days old,
three nationalities already have overrun their quota. Ships are continuing to arrive piling up the immigrants unable to land.

Five thousand who have arrived since June 3 when the law went into effect, have not yet been examined.
Most of them will be rejected.

Meanwhile they are held on ships,
which they probably never will leave for weeks, until they arrive back in the port in Europe—from which they embarked.

A woman and two little children
eaten by ringworms were rejected Wednesday and thrown back on the ship where they must mingle with the others many of whom have been found diseased and mentally defective.

An aged Italian woman, lugging only a bottle of water fainted as she attempted to climb the steps to be inspected.

Pueblo, Colo.—This city Wednesday settled down to a long and hard pull to get from under the mud and misery left in the wake of the mud Arkansas river.

The harvest of dead stood at 45 bodies in local morgues and reports of 27 other dead in valley towns.

Work of cleaning up Pueblo will take months, it was said.

Railroads have started filling in breaches in the levee in order to preserve the new trucks being laid. Two relief trains arrived from Denver Wednesday and one left for the stricken cities of the north.

Five hundred Puebloans cheered the first train to reach the station. Two motor lorries and five wagons were to entrain Wednesday from Fort Sam-Houston, Texas for Pueblo to help restore order and dig the city out.

More than a hundred horses drowned in the flood were burned in great pyres on the outskirts of the city.

The comforts of civilization, wiped out for several days, are quite generally restored Wednesday with electric light, water and telephone service and a minimum amount of domestic gas available.

Several of the flood victims were to be buried Wednesday, the services to be very simple affairs.

Transfer of refugees to the concentration camp built by national guardsmen began last night with the removal of many men from the court house and schools to the tent city on the south side. The camps will be enlarged gradually to relieve all public institutions as their presence in schoolhouses, courthouses, municipal and public buildings has seriously upset official routine.

MORON IS SOUGHT
FOR MURDER OF GIRL

By United Press Leased Wire
Fargo, N. D.—Marie Wick, pretty 15-year old girl of Gravel, Minn., was murdered by a moron who trailed her as an attractive young girl traveling alone, police were convinced Wednesday. Her skull was crushed with the barrel of a .38 Smith & Wesson.

Peter Wick, her father, said the girl had never been in Fargo before,
but was attending school at Warren, Minn. A young man who formerly lived at Gravel, met her at the train at her request because she was an acquaintance during the evening of the murder.

Guests at the Prescott hotel who occupied rooms adjoining hers said they heard no struggle. The girl had been bound and gagged, assaulted and murdered.

CHARGES WASTE IN SOLDIER AID WORK

Salaries in Rehabilitation Work
Almost Equal Money Paid to Veterans.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Charges that federal funds are being wasted "by the shov-elful" by the federal board for vocational education, in its soldier rehabilitation work, were made Wednesday by Representative Robinson, Republican, Kansas.

If the present policy is continued
the government could give every disabled soldier $10,000 in cash and then more soldiers would get the money than will be rehabilitated by the present board, he said.

Under present practices the rehabilitation bill will exceed $1,000,000,000.
Robinson said that already $85,000,000
has been appropriated.

The congressman said he favored adjusting the disabled men, but that at least $145,000,000 already had been expended, only 3,000 men have been rehabilitated—a cost of $45,000 a man.

Overhead expenses of the board are extremely high, he charged in clamor that in April, 1921, the board paid $1,000,000 to the wounded men and $1,000,000 in salaries.

Robinson claimed that the board is allowing "mushroom" schools to be organized overnight for the training of men and large sums given their products, instead of sending the wounded schools.

START ARGUMENTS ON
PEGGY'S ALIMONY CLAIM

Chicago.—Hoaring on the petition of Peggy Joyce for $10,000 temporary alimony and $100,000 attorneys fees
pending hearing of her divorce suit,
was opened before Judge Sabath
Wednesday.

The first session of court was taken up with reading of petitions which already had been filed in the case by attorneys.

Alfred Austrian, attorney for the millionaire James Stanley Joyce, presented a new petition in court denying Peggy's allegations of cruelty, drunkenness and other charges.

Joyce denied he knew anything of the raising of Peggy's apartment in New York and the search of her personal papers.

Joyce declared before he left Peggy, he received information that she had not been a "chaste and faithful wife" while on their honeymoon trip in Europe.

OTHER SHIPS ENDANGERED

More Than Fifty Passenger Steamers Now Are Sailing on Atlantic.

BULLETIN
New York.—The British steamer
Seapool which struck an iceberg in the north Atlantic, is thought to be sinking according to a message received by the Royal Mail Steam Packet company here at 1:30 p. m.
standard eastern time.

The message was from Captain T.
M. Taylor of the liner Orduna.

The Seapool's position was given as 47 50 north and 45 30 west. The Or-duna was 750 miles from that point.
Taylor's message read:

"The Orduna expects to arrive at 6 a. m. Friday. She has not received from the steamer Seapool. Cape
Race sent a message to all ships
Someone near answer ship thought to be sinking. The Seapool's position is 47 50 north, 45 30 west. We are 750 miles distant from her position."

A wireless from the Seapool received by the naval radio here at 9:27 a. m.
said that the Seapool although damaged and leaking, was proceeding toward St. John N. S.

New York.—The British steamer
Seapool which apparently struck an iceberg off the New England coast, was damaged but is safe according to a wireless received by the naval radio station here Wednesday.

The message sent at 9:27 a. m.
stated:

"Proceeding on course. Forepeak full of water."

Naval radio officers said the nearest ship to the Seapool which left Montreal for Dublin on June 2, was the steamer Orduna. She was about 260 miles to the eastward.

The Seapool is a 2,790-ton steamship. It left Montreal on June 2 for Dublin.

The steamship is owned by the Pool Shipping company of Ireland and is operated by Sir R. Ropner and company.

Many Berge Floating

Icebergs have been causing trouble in the north Atlantic for more than a week. Ordinarily they float down later in the summer. The Saxonia, docking almost two weeks ago, was the first liner to report a delay this summer due to encountering a number of the floating monsters.

Reports of a disaster Wednesday occurred at the height of the trans-Atlantic traffic. One of the greatest passenger fleets since the war was at sea, many of them just now passing the region where the bergs were presumed to be most numerous. The Carmania, a famous Cunard boat, was one of the best known of the vessels now fighting their way across the Atlantic. The Carmania and the Rochembeau apparently were in about the same latitude.

Rotarians at Sea

Other famous vessels, at sea now included the Aquitania and the Mauretania, sister ships of the Cunard line which are steaming in interesting race from England. They are to dock
Friday and Saturday in New York and should be on the rim of the ice field Wednesday. The Olympic flier of the White Star line is headed for Great Britain and should have been well past the danger zone
Wednesday.

A great number of American Rotarians are abroad the Cameraria, and the Caronia now about due in England.

In all there were 50 passenger ships bound for European ports or headed for America. Arthur P.
Henderson of the French line id Rochembeau had headed south to avoid the icebergs.

It was believed that many a vessels had detoured also and privately might be delayed.

HARDING APPOINTS
AIDES FOR LASKER

Washington.—A. D. Lasker has agreed to become chairman of the

DIVIDE BURDENS OF COLLEGE STUDENTS

College Students Adopt System to Spread Activities to More Persons.

The joint system of curricular activities was formally adopted Monday evening by the women's house council of Lawrence college at the regular meetings. Election of officers took place. Miss Eunice Slattergren, Riverside, Ill., was elected president of Russell Sage and Miss Mildred Parkard of Sand Springs, Okla., was made member of house council. At large Ruth Swanson of Green Bay was made president of Ormsby and Laura Hamilton, Lancaster, member at large.

By means of the point system a larger number of girls will be encouraged to take part in the privileges and honors which have previously been monopolized by a few. Organizations of activities will be benefited by securing officers whose interests are concentrated rather than so scattered that efforts become inefficient; prominent individuals will be protected from being burdened with more outside work than is safe for either their studies or their health.

The system is being adopted by most of the modern colleges and universities all over the country through the Omnis Student Government association. Juniors and seniors will be allowed to carry 14 points of curricular ac-

KEY FURNISHED TO TREASURE HOUSE

What vast and mighty treasures of words full of rich meaning lie locked up in our language—hidden away from common use, and enjoyed only by the learned few. It is as if, possessing the mineral wealth of Mexico, mined, smelted and ready for the mint, we turned scornfully aside revealing in a voluntary poverty.

A dictionary constitutes the treasure house of a language. As a people, we needlessly deprive ourselves of the help at our command. In our daily tasks, not one of which can be performed without the use of words, we possess only the most primitive tools, when we might be equipped with the keenest and most efficient. If the dictionary be the barred and bolted treasure house we have mentioned, then the coupon we print daily in this paper is its key.

The coupon will appear only a few more times to a close. Readers are invited to consult the coupon now, read the display announcements and ascertain at once how this great New University Dictionary can be secured practically as a gift.—adv.

CONTRACTORS DECLINE TO ENTER WAGE MEETING

Carpenters of the Fox river valley, through their representatives at a meeting here Tuesday night, agreed to a proposal signed by mayors and presidents of chambers of commerce of all cities of the valley, that a meeting be held with master builders on or before June 9 to discuss the carpenter strike which now is in progress. It was said that master builders of the valley, at a meeting here Tuesday night, laid the proposal on the table.

The petition stated that widespread suffering has been caused by inability of carpenters and contractors to get together and urged them to arrange a conference at which their differences could be discussed.

PLANS HERE FOR NEW ELK ADDITION

Call for Basement Unit Only, But Hope for Two-Story Structure Remains.

Plans and specifications for the proposed addition to Elk club have been received and local contractors are preparing their bids, to be opened at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The new unit will be 23 by 104 feet, but will be an addition solely to the basement. Walls will be built only a few feet above the ground and the whole will be covered by a temporary roof, with the idea of building two stories onto the foundation later. The structure will be erected on the lot north of the present club building.

Four new bowling alleys will be installed, and a seating space provided for spectators. New lockers and toilet rooms are to be built also. There will be a bowling pit of the most modern type in which the pin boys will work. These boys will have separate lockers and a small room of their own in which to spend their idle time.

Hope has not been abandoned by officers of the club for the 2-story addition similar to the present building, which was talked of originally. The architect is preparing plans for this structure also and they are expected here by the end of the week. Some idea of the cost will be obtained if enough bonds can be sold without the effort of a drive, in lots of not more than $100 to a man, the larger unit will be built instead of the extra basement.

CROP GROWTH PROMISES RECORD FALL HARVEST

"Crops look much better in northern Wisconsin this year than in most seasons previous," says John J. Sherman, president of the Citizens National bank, who has returned from a business trip to the north. "The farmers seem to be well pleased. We seem to have had excellent growing weather and everybody is anxious to have it continue."

"The corn is the best I have ever seen it at this time of the year. It seems to be enjoying a healthy growth and I feel sure that there will be a record crop unless the weather goes against us."

Car Overturns

A Buick touring car owned by U. S. Tractor and Machinery company, Menasha, and driven by Mr. Toman, a salesman for the company, turned over late Tuesday evening on Lake road, near Waverly beach. Mr. Toman and one other occupant of the machine were unhurt. The car was brought to an Appleton garage for repairs and was taken back to Menasha early Wednesday morning.

NEED MORE TEACHERS FOR VACATION SCHOOL

Plans for the church vacation school which begins June 20 will be completed at a meeting of teachers and workers at 8:30 Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. A. L. McMillan is registering names of college students who will be home for the summer and other persons interested in volunteering for this work as the teaching staff is not yet complete.

The teaching consists of Bible stories, memory work, craft work, sewing, handwork of various kinds, dramatization of Bible stories and supervising of play time. The pupils are to be divided into three groups—the first, children from 6 to 8 years, the second, children from 9 to 11 years and the third, 12 to 15.

The management is especially looking for assistants for the manual training work for boys.

BELOIT POLICE ARREST FORGERS WANTED HERE

Rubber stamp check artists who swindled a local grocer and operated in Fox river valley cities and Milwaukee were captured recently at Beloit and sentenced to four years in the state reformatory, Green Bay. They were Henry and Ernest Malone, brothers, of Chicago. George T. Prim, chief of police, visited the men at the reformatory and they admitted to him that they had operated in Appleton.

The forgers had a set of rubber type and a check protecting machine with which they prepared checks on local banks to make them resemble pay checks. They would be cashed at groceries and meat markets as though they were pay checks. Many merchants were victims of their smooth game.

50 GIRLS ARE EAGER TO START PLAYING TENNIS

More than 50 young ladies signed up for tennis at the meeting of the Tennis club Tuesday evening in Appleton Womans club. The rules of the game were explained and diagrammed and it is expected that after one more week of "indoor" tennis, the girls will be ready to start on the courts. The arrangement of the schedule is a rather complicated affair owing to the fact that the girls have to play either before 7 o'clock in the morning or after 5 o'clock in the evening.

Capt. Schey May Leave

Captain Engle Schey, who has had charge of the Salvation Army here for some time, will leave June 8 on an extended vacation and there is a possibility that she may not return. Captain Schey expects to be transferred to a larger city where she will work in the slums, an occupation in which she has had much experience. The work here will be under the direction of Captain Marie Johnson, who has been Captain Schey's assistant.

No Grocer Picnic

The annual picnic of the Appleton Grocers' association will be dispensed with this year because of the state convention of the Wisconsin Grocers association which is to be held here in August. The convention will be attended by nearly 1,000 grocers and wholesalers from all over the state and an elaborate program will be prepared in due time.

FORCED TO FIGHT FOR HIS BREATH

Almost Physical Wreck, Raff Builds Himself Back to Vigorous Health

"I had heard a great deal about Tanlac and since trying it myself I can conscientiously say it is the best medicine I have ever seen in all my experience," said David Raff, 250 N.

DAVID RAFF
250 N. 59th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

59th-st., Philadelphia, recently. Mr. Raff has lived in Philadelphia all his life and is well known and highly respected.

"My health was all broken up," he explained. "My stomach was all out of order and gave me so much trouble that I actually dreaded to go to the table. I would simply rather go without eating than suffer the awful misery I knew would follow. I would blast up so with gas that my heart would beat a terrific rate and it seemed sometimes I was being smothered to death. I just had to fight for my breath. My nerves were all undone, I slept poorly and was all the time having headaches that were almost blinding. I lost weight and felt so weak and run-down all over I could hardly do any work."

"Sometime ago a good friend of mine told me he knew Tanlac would help me and he spoke so positive about it that I took his advice. And I can say right now that Tanlac is the first medicine I ever saw that will do exactly what they say it will. Five bottles have the same as made me all over again. I can eat anything I ever could in my life and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I'm no more nervous than a child, sleep fine and it just makes me feel happy to be enjoying such good health. Tanlac certainly is a great medicine."

Barbers Scout Tale That War Caused More Baldness

Local Tonsorial Artists Have Failed to Note More Bald Heads.

Was service in the army overseas conducive to early baldness?

Some one has said that men who wore helmets at the front for any length of time are now threatened with entire baldness. This is attributed to the effect a certain kind of composition used to line the helmet had upon the scalp.

Appleton barbers hesitate to either hair resulted from the influenza epidemic. Fever, he reminds, always kills the hair, seeming to poison it. Sometimes it falls out shortly after the illness and in other cases it falls several months later. He is of the opinion that if the battlefield really did have a baneful effect on the hair, poison gas and not the helmet is to blame.

"Why worry," says William Smith of the Cozy shop, "if early baldness does set in. Don't you know we have a machine now for transplanting verify or contradict this story. Some of them say they have known many cases where the army training which benefited the health of the whole physique also has been reflected in a more luxuriant growth of hair.

Others believe that if returned soldiers are growing bald it is because their hair received no care or attention during the time they were in the trenches, and not because the helmet had a detrimental effect upon it. Frank Neuman said that falling healthy hair from one head to another?"

This ingenious device, he declares, is the invention of a doctor who has spent many years experimenting along this line.

According to his description, the device has the appearance of a pistol and contains 40 fine needles. It is operated by electricity, he says, and will transplant 450 hairs per hour. Should the hair transplant come into general use, growing hair for profit may become a lucrative vocation.

CARS MUST HAVE PROPER LIGHTS AND LICENSES

Is the tail light on your automobile in working order and visible at night? Have you license plates at the front and back of your car?

Are your lights dimmed or free from glare according to law?

Every autoist wants to make sure that his car complies in these respects, because the police department is after all violators and will take them into court. Several already have been fined for not having proper license plates and others have been warned about the absence of a tail light at night.

MAKE ROADS IN COUNTY MORE SAFE FOR AUTOS

Freedom township has taken up the movement to make its roads safe for heavy traffic. Most of its roadways are being widened several feet to permit automobiles to pass each other in safety, and without requiring machines to run partly into the ditch. Grading of this character is being done over about six miles of road. This treatment makes the road rather rough for a time, but in the end the highways will resemble boulevards.

Shoulders are being filled in along that portion of the concrete pavement which was built last fall on Medina rd. Some gravel also has been placed on Spencer rd., which has had little attention so far this year.

Await Convention News Members of the Equitable Fraternal union have received no notice as yet as to the triennial convention which is supposed to be held this year. The last convention was at Madison and as local members recall the next convention was to be held at Neenah. So far, however, nothing has been announced concerning it.

MRS. M'MILLAN IS RED CROSS LEADER

Auxiliary Is Formed to Supply Hospital Equipment and Clothing.

Mrs. A. L. McMillan has been appointed chairman of the newly established auxiliary service of Outagamie Red Cross chapter. She will perfect an organization during the summer months to take up work next fall of providing clothing and other equipment for the Appleton loan closet, for soldier hospitals and for ragged children of Europe.

Red Cross has helped Herbert Hoover obtain a food supply to keep starving people alive and has maintained child welfare units in European countries. Now the American Red Cross is asked to help clothe these unfortunate and the Outagamie chapter has received a request to do its share. The national chapter is in need of 250,000 layettes and 2,000,000 garments for children up to 14 years of age.

Workrooms will not be opened as before. The sewing will be done by agencies, clubs and societies already organized. Each group will decide the number of garments it wishes to make and may specify what country of central Europe they are to be sent to. Record of garments is entered each month.

Start Next Fall

Mrs. McMillan will organize committees who will arrange for the sewing club among the various agencies. No organizations will be asked to engage in these activities during the summer unless they wish to, but will be expected to take up the task in the fall. Mrs. McMillan is considered a capable leader for this branch of Red Cross work because of her experience as county Red Cross secretary during the war in Forest City, Iowa. Her county made the best record in the state for the amount of materials provided.

There is need for a limited supply of bandages, dressings and garments to equip the loan closet the board of directors of the chapter voted to establish. This closet is maintained for nurses who find patients without sick-room equipment occasionally. Some supplies also are wanted to equip the local chapter for disaster preparedness. Local ex-service men in hospitals frequently need hospital garments.

Some layettes, garments and supplies were left over from the war period, but all of these have been used. Needs have been supplied voluntarily since by various groups. The domestic science girls at the high school and the Jewish Ladies Aid Society have made many layettes.

Miss May Bailey has gone to Milwaukee for a several days' visit with friends.

MY FIRST JOB

OSCAR KUNITZ

Proprietor Kunitz Livery Twenty-four years ago I left home and got a job in the copper mines in Calumet, Mich., as drill boy. I was given a wage of $60 a month and my work consisted of carrying drills down into the mines before the miners came to work.

I will never forget my first day's experience at the mines. The first time I went down the shaft, which was over 20,000 feet deep, I felt that I was going straight through the roof of the elevator. When we reached the first level and started to stop I had a feeling that I was dropping through the floor.

We reached my level and I was given a candle and told to wait for the miners. I walked over to a trap door, opened it, and the wind coming down the tunnel blew out my candle. There I sat in the dark. I had no matches and I was so scared that I hung onto the door until the miners came down a half hour later.

AFTER A CENTURY OF PEACE

Arguing recently in favor of the $500,000,000 naval appropriation bill, which has since passed the senate by a vote of 54 to 17, Senator Poindexter said that if he wanted a war with either Great Britain or Japan, he would "want a little, weak navy" as the best means to that end. Whether an inferior American navy would tempt Japan to go to war with this country may be regarded as uncertain, for Japan which has not long figured on the great-nation stage, is more or less of an unknown quantity. But for more than a hundred years Great Britain has not been tempted to go to war with the United States, although during all that time, or until recently, her navy was vastly superior to ours. There have been irritations during the past century, some of them pretty serious, but notwithstanding her great naval superiority Great Britain has preferred arbitration or a peaceable adjustment in some form.

She could have readily found a pretext to fight this country in 1895, for example, when the Cleveland administration, at the risk of war, boldly demanded that the boundary dispute between Venezuela and British Guiana be settled by arbitration. Our navy was then relatively weak and our army of insignificant size, yet the British swallowed their irritation, yielded, and then, after investigation, greatly to our surprise, the arbitrators decided that the British boundary claim was just. Nobody can answer for Japan, but the talk about Great Britain going to war with us is absurd. Altogether aside from kinship and sentiment, the British know that the cost, ultimately if not immediately, would be greater than could be borne, and the consequences disastrous.

THE ECONOMY OF ADVERTISING

"The whole basis of national progress, of an increased standard of living, of better human relations, indeed of the advancement of civilization, depends on the continuous improvement in productivity," said Herbert Hoover in a recent address at Syracuse. And Mr. Hoover goes on to say: "The absorption of increased productivity lies in the conversion of luxuries of today into necessities of tomorrow, and to spread those through the whole population by stimulation of habit and education. Wheat bread, railways, good roads, electricity, telephones, telegraphs, automobiles and movies were once luxuries. They are still luxuries to some parts of the population." The business of advertising is to educate and to stimulate habits which produce increased demand. In the course of this process, advertising reduces the cost of distribution and effects economies which make it possible to transform the luxuries of yesterday into the necessities of today.

One of the strongest illustrations of the economy of advertising in reducing the cost of distribution and sales by stimulating increased consumption is found in the cooperative campaign of the California Fruit Growers. Their advertising manager describes as follows the results of their advertising, for which more than $1,000,000 was spent last year. In the twelve years since the first campaign was launched in Iowa the consumption of California oranges has doubled. The American consumer has been taught by cooperative advertising to eat nearly twice as many oranges as before. The expenditure of 2½ cents a box, or about one-fifth of a cent per dozen, to advertise oranges, did not increase the price. Had the orange industry remained on the old basis there would have been no profit in growing oranges. New acreage would not have been planted. Old orchards would most surely have been uprooted and other crops planted. Cooperative advertising widened the growers' market. The cost of selling oranges and lemons through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is lower today than it was ten years ago.

And the people who have learned what an enjoyable and healthful habit eating oranges is have received a benefit without any additional cost to them. So it has been with every commodity and luxury, whether it be good foods, better raiment, labor-saving devices for the home, or fine furniture. You have learned about them through advertising. You have bought them upon the advice of advertising.

JEFFERSON RECALLED

Though the University of Virginia is a great institution, the celebration of its centennial is of chief interest to the country generally because of its association with the name of Thomas Jefferson. Great devotion to the cause of education and lasting regard for the college he founded are indicated by the epitaph found among Jefferson's papers and carved on his monument at Monticello which records, as the climax of his achievement, that he was "Father of the University of Virginia." It is remarkable that such a seeming preference for his work as a college founder should have been expressed in this way by a renowned statesman who was twice president, who wrote the Declaration of Independence, who added the great Louisiana territory to the United States, who successfully championed the freedom of the press in opposition to the repressive policy of President John Adams, and who wrote much that is still widely known.

Possibly this was because, like most men of large achievement, Jefferson in his later years was disappointed in the results of his labors. Yet his work has lived after him as has the work of few men. His doctrine of state rights or state sovereignty is now but a shadow of its former self, but as the consistent and powerful teacher of the doctrine of human rights and personal liberty he left an ineffaceable impress upon his country and people. The man who was able to carry every state in the Union but two on the issue of human rights and personal liberty did more than any other to create the distinctively American atmosphere, and he needs no educational institution bearing his name to keep his memory alive.

KEEP ON AGITATING

There are evidences that both the legislative and executive branches of the federal government are moving with increasing speed in the direction of relieving the distress and providing for the comfort of the soldiers disabled in the war.

The commission appointed by President Harding is not only working along independent lines, but is cooperating with the committees of Congress which have in charge needed new legislation.

There is every reason to believe that official Washington thoroughly appreciates how remiss the government has been in caring for its disabled heroes and is making a sincere and intelligent effort to right the wrong.

In large measure, the government's activity is the result of public opinion created by the agitation of the soldiers' organizations.

The soldiers should keep on agitating and exposing every case of abuse and neglect that can be found.

The nation can never pay in full its debt to the disabled soldiers—the blind, the gassed, the crippled, the disfigured. But until it has done everything that it is humanly possible to do to heal them and provide for their economic independence, it will be falling short of its most sacred duty and obligation.

This is the one government activity in connection with which the word "economy" ought never be mentioned.

Concernin' this here mil, I wanta say I don't know which has got the better show, Jack Dempsey's good, but this Carpentier show (if that's the way you say it) isn't slow. But, havin' watched the champions as they grow, seen 'em when young an' fresh or old an' stale I've come to this conclusion—get me, Bo—the guy who wields the wallop cops the kaiser! Footwork is necessary in a way That Irene Castle stuff is good to know; It often helps a clever kid to stay low. Who otherwise would soon be layin' low. Speed helps, an' brains; I'll tell the world it's so A champ needs some of both or he will fail. But here's the inside information, though, The guy who wields the wallop cops the kaiser! The old haymaker rules the ring today Just as it did in times of long ago, The jolt, the punch, the gull dominate the fray. The slam, the smash, the old sledge-hammer blow These are the Goods! And now I've put you Joe And you can read the moral of my tale, This is the only hint I can throw The guy who wields the wallop cops the kaiser.

Cherchez la Femme

Willie Hopkins is only 10, but strange to tell he brushes his own hair and washes his face without parental coercion. It must be admitted that Willie just started this most uncommon practice within the last few days. The young man's mother was dum founded when she walked into his room and found him plastering down his hair with a brush. "You're a very good boy," she said. "How did you come to think of brushing your hair and washing your face?" Willie looked sheepish and then replied: "Marry Brown told me I was good lookin'."—New York Sun.

THE ASEPTIC TOUCH

Antiseptic is a rather old stuff, not new. The present word is aseptic. Antiseptic meant literally against poison, and referred to chemicals which had some real or imagined discouraging influence on the multiplication of disease germs. Few alleged antiseptics do discourage disease germs even outside of the body. None of these chemicals or drugs has any appreciable effect on the growth or multiplication of disease germs in the body tissues. Aseptic means without poison, and refers to the means and methods whereby disease germs are denied access to body tissues (not necessarily to the surface or to the open cavities such as the mouth, nose or intestine).

Asepsis is not only possible but practicable. Antiseptics is not only utopian but often harmful, for if the chemical or drug applied really does discourage or destroy germs it is certain to discourage or destroy the cells of the tissue or part to which it is applied, for these delicate cells are less resistant to poisoning than are the cells which constitute disease germs. This explains why simple wounds and serious wounds are often so slow to heal—the unwise use or excessive use of antiseptics has a destructive influence on the delicate new cells. It suggests also the absurdity of the claim frequently made by the exploiters of "healing" remedies that their remedies heal anything as fast as nature undisturbed can heal. Understand, when I say "nature undisturbed" I mean scientific neglect, which is another way of saying asepsis.

To keep germs out of a wound or to deny them access to the body tissues is a much greater problem than the lay reader can comprehend. Asepsis is an art. Its technique and successful application is learned of the nurse in the operating room and in the lying-in chamber and in contagious disease wards. A great many doctors in practice not only do not practice asepsis but do not even know the fundamental principles of this modern use of absolute cleanliness. The cleanliness is not mere white enamel and nickel plate display—that is often the dirtiest and most dangerous environment. It is the art of not touching or being touched by anything unclean. Thus, a doctor who sits on a "sterilized" instrument from the basin or tray, who wipes her fingers betrays her unfitness. A mother who wipes the nose of a child with corset, then goes to attend to some other household duty without having first washed her hands, becomes a menace to every other member of the household.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Soda and the Teeth

Kindly tell me whether soda will injure the teeth if used only once a week in brushing them. It seems to whiten them. Please tell me what would be good for a hard place on the bottom of the foot. (Miss M. W.)

ANSWER—The occasional use of soda will not injure the teeth. Paint the cavity on a day with a solution of thirty grains of salicylic acid in an ounce of cologne. This may be had ready prepared in some drugstores under the title of salicylated cologne.

Local Anesthetic

What is meant by a local anesthetic? Is either internally necessary for an operation for internal hemorrhoids, or may this be done under a local anesthetic? (A. N. J.)

ANSWER—Local anesthetic is anything which removes or stops the pain sense in a local region. Sometimes hemorrhoids may be operated on with a local anesthetic, though a general anesthetic is more commonly used.

Sweaty Feet

I am fifteen years old and troubled quite considerably with sweaty feet. Could you recommend anything that will prevent it? (Miss R. G.)

ANSWER—Stop washing your feet with warm water. Use only cool or cold water, but the more rarely they are washed the better. Freely sprinkle in the shoes and inside the toes of the stockings each second day some powdered alum. Wring the feet of the stockings out in a solution of as much boric acid as the water will take up, and then let them dry out before wearing them. Go barefoot at every opportunity, and avoid tight shoes.

Elmer Pope of Kaukauna received a patent on a revider for paper mills. A sample machine was being built at Albert's machine shop at Kaukauna.

YOUR FIRST WHITE ANCESTOR

A Utah court rules that the black-skinned Hindu belongs to the white race. Science backs the ruling. The case may make you wonder if your ancestors came from India and whether they looked like the fellow you see in the movies who avenges the theft of the sacred jewel from the eye of the idol in the Bom-Won temple.
Ethnologists, who trace the origin of peoples, are not certain about the exact location of the cradle of the white race.
Their latest theory is that your first white ancestors inhabited Africa, north of the Sudan, whence they migrated through Egypt into southern Russia and India.
One of their first sea voyages was to Japan, the scientists say. The Japanese originally were Aryan or white people, not Mongolian. Their saffron complexion is the result of cross-breeding their white ancestors (still found in the pure white state in the island of Yezo) with coffee-colored conquerors from the Malay Archipelago and China.
Interesting study—the origin of races—why one man is white and another black, yellow, red or brown.
We might know more about the prehistoric peoples and our own origin, had it not been for the burning of ancient libraries by conquering soldiers whose first act of vandalism was to destroy the records of the people they had subdued.

Pioneer Of Transportation

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington—In the life of Amos Grant Batchelder, who was killed a few days ago with six others in the fall of a giant government airplane, the whole wonderful romance of modern personal transportation was epitomized.

It is a striking proof of the speed with which time and space have been conquered in this country that one young man, who played a leading part in that conquest, began with the crude bicycle, saw the whole development of that machine and of the automobile, and lost his life in an airplane.

As a ten-year-old boy, going from his farm home in New York State before dawn every morning to meet the train and get his newspapers to distribute, he became convinced that better roads were needed for the benefit of every community in the United States. Stumbling along in the darkness over rough and rutted farm roads, little better than the poorest neglected lane of today, the conviction grew in this lad's mind that money put into roads would help every one.

This farmer newsboy turned printer's apprentice, but kept this dream always before him, and the development of it and its practical application became his life's work. Batchelder, the farm boy who combined selling newspapers with his other chores to support his widowed mother, made this good roads dream a reality as chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Automobile Association—the "A.A.A."

With his almost fanatical belief in the necessity of constructing and maintaining good roads the country over, Mr. Batchelder became a pioneer in personal transportation. In the old days of the bicycle—the high-wheeled affair which preceded the "safety" bicycle, he was an enthusiastic wheelman. This recreation fitted exactly in with his serious work of forever preaching and pounding away at good roads.

An Auto Pioneer

When the automobile became a practical reality, Mr. Batchelder turned to it with enthusiasm. In the days when scooters could see no good in the novelty of a self-propelled vehicle, Mr. Batchelder was one of those who had vision of the future development of the automobile. With the rapid and tremendous growth of the automobile, the necessity of good roads became even more of a religion with Mr. Batchelder. Even in the days when proponents of good roads were springing up everywhere, few could see any reason why the Federal government should participate in the creation of better highways. Mr. Batchelder was the first to recognize the part the Federal government should play.

For years he worked and preached for this, and was rewarded when on July 11, 1916, President Wilson signed the Federal Air Road Act, which brought the Federal Government into road-building. For years, right up to the time of his death, Mr. Batchelder traveled about 40,000 miles each year, preaching better roads everywhere throughout the United States—for military, economic and other reasons. Convincing state legislatures, county commissions, and the public of the necessity of building good roads, and keeping them good, occupied a great deal of his time. As a result of his urgent advocacy, he had been in practically every section of every state in the Union.

Opportunities for more lucrative employment were repeatedly ignored by this man with a big idea to which he stuck throughout his whole life. To Mr. Batchelder more than to any other individual, the motorists of the country owe a great debt of gratitude for the improved, sign-marked, and charted highway systems of the United States. Experience abroad convinced Mr. Batchelder that one thing in which the United States was backward was properly made, maintained and charted roads, and to him as much as to any one man is due credit for making the present situation in this respect a tremendous improvement over that of the not very remote past.

The Federal Road Plan

Mr. Batchelder's most recent ambition was the creation by the Federal government of a national road system. This system he wanted to have under the direction and supervision of a Federal Highway Commission. This plan had progressed to the point where Senator Townsend, of Michigan, had introduced a bill embodying Mr. Batchelder's ideas. This was the first official step toward the realization of this plan.

Mr. Batchelder had a summer place on Baitusor Mountain, near Summit, New Jersey. His friends and associates in the A. A. A. are now formulating a plan to have the crude road over the mountain made into a fine road, of the type for which Mr. Batchelder was always fighting. "Batchelder Highway" as it will be called if the plan is carried out, will be the memorial to this pioneer of good road-building.

Just as he turned to the automobile and saw its possibilities in its early days, so Mr. Batchelder saw in the airplane another engine for the annihilation of time and space, for bringing remote portions of the country more closely together, and eventually the large use of airplanes for passenger and freight transportation. He had visions of a system of national highways, running the length and breadth of the land, making a veritable gridiron of the United States. This would be not alone for automobiles, although primarily intended for their use.

Mr. Batchelder contended that by having landing fields alongside these national highways at frequent intervals, where supplies could be obtained and damage repaired, airplanes could follow these roads in regular flights of any length. The hazard of forced landings in unsuitable territory would thus be much reduced.

Mr. Batchelder's interest in aeronautics was far from being purely academic. He had taken many flights as a passenger. In February last he narrowly escaped death in making an attempted flight from New York to Miami in a big seaplane.

This machine alighted in Pamlico Sound to replenish its gas tanks. The hose from the wharf through which the tanks were being filled was a trifle short, and a good deal of gasoline got on the machine. A native, struggling up to see the big plane, smoking a cigarette, carelessly set fire to the plane.

In a moment the machine was a mass of flames. Mr. Batchelder and the other persons in the plane escaped death only by leaping overboard and swimming away from the blazing plane. This was the longest flight Mr. Batchelder had attempted. The Curtiss Eagle ambulance plane when all met their deaths were enthusiasts of the same type, sharing many of his ideas.

Q. How did the name John Doe originate? M. M. M. A. John Doe as the name of a fictitious plaintiff and Richard Roe as the name of a fictitious defendant, are of great antiquity and their origin is not known. ### THE BOOK OF MARTHA

Martha Loses Her Poise

"Mrs. Lorimer—Mr. Mansfield!"
Later I learned that the handsome man's first name was Arthur. Mr. Mansfield's errand was short; he possessed two tickets to a recital by Corrot, the great pianist; a wire was taking him out of town within the hour; he ventured to hope that Mrs. Palmer could use them.
"Corrot—and Chopin! Not to have those precious tickets used by somebody would be a tragedy!" Martha laughed as she took the cards and slipped them into a drawer of her desk, turning a little as if to conceal her rising color.
She had the music critic's appreciation of the French artist, still I couldn't help wondering if the mere anticipation of hearing the master could make her glow like that!
"I knew you'd feel that way!" said Arthur Mansfield, whereas Martha's complexion took on a rosier tint.
Except for the woman's blush and the man's too intimate little speech which betrayed a friendship of long standing, there was nothing dramatic or prophetic in Arthur Mansfield's short call. I had just time to note that he was rather shy for so handsome a man, time to catch the vibrant quality of his splendid voice.

As soon as he had left us, Martha turned to me with the obvious question:
"Will you go to the concert with me, Jane?"
"Gladly! Thank you!"
Then a vast silence fell upon the office! It was utterly absurd for us two girls to find nothing to say! The quiet became dramatic—as if the coming and going of Arthur Mansfield were more important to Martha than that of any other man!
Evidently Martha was not inclined to speak of her caller. Why? I broke the stillness at last:
"Is that the famous Arthur Mansfield—the bachelor recluse? Is that the handsome? I'm not sure the most valuable library in town, and who hides in it to avoid the match-making matrons?"
"The same," Martha's color had become normal. "He's a lawyer; you know we're all lawyers in this building. His office is on this floor!"
"Dear me! I've lived in the town ever since I was married. I've heard of A. Mansfield a thousand times, but never have I met him before!"
Thus I chattered as any girl, wise or simple, would have done under the circumstances. "And he's so good to gaze upon that I must say I'd worry about you, Martha, only—only—he's regarded everywhere as the victim of a broken heart!"

Martha laughed at an idea my words suggested.
"Isn't the modern flapper a queer complex? Those little schoolgirls, Peggy Van Eyck and Deb's sister, Beatrice Burns, have been haunting my office like affectionate ghosts. They want to catch a glimpse of a man who has not flirted nor made love to a girl for years! They say they'd give their precious galoshes to get a peek at him, so that they could describe him at school!"
"Do they know that his heart is buried in the grave of a girl who died 10 years ago?"

BIG IMPROVEMENT IN SCHOLARSHIP OF FRESHMEN GIRLS

Silver Loving Cup Is Awarded Scholarship Committee of
First Year Class.

The scholarship committee of the freshman commission of Lawrence college was presented with a beautiful silver loving cup, a gift of K. F. Keller and Sons, Jewelers at chapel services Monday morning in recognition of the high grade work accomplished by the group. A committee consisting of faculty members and four representatives of the student body judged the work of the four departments of the freshman commission and awarded the honor to the scholarship committee of which Miss Ina Dunbar of Fond du Lac is chairman. The presentation was made by President Samuel Plantz. The Standards committee of which Laura Brain is chairman received almost enough votes to tie for first place.

Scholarship "L" pins were awarded to students of the class who received an average of 90 per cent in their studies for the year. Students with an average of 90 or above are: Dorothy Lymer, Ellen Kinsman, Alice Lyons, Florence Schaefer, Appleton; Laura Brain, Cameron; Nan Euzard, Washburn; Ruth De Voe, Duluth, Minn.; Eva Johnson, Neenah; Marjorie Stanley, Clintonville; Ina Dunbar, Fond du Lac; Norton Mastersen, St. Croix Falls; Vernon Delaney, Dickinson, North Dak.; Vivian Paulson, Washburn.

The committee consisted of Ina Dunbar, chairman; Nan Euzard, Washburn; Sophia Frericks, Waupun; Helen Brade, Terre Haute, Ind.; Hilda Eiler, Racine; Lois Gaskell, Duluth, Minn.; Evelyn Jarrett, Chicago, Ill. The committee has made a substantial beginning toward a freshman scholarship fund to be given to the freshman who deserves and needs help through his sophomore year. Each year the scholarship committee is to raise the necessary funds for the perpetuation of the scholarship with the aid of the freshman class.

Much of the work of the committee has been toward improving the scholarship of the freshman girls. Ways and means have been worked out by the girls themselves with the assistance of talks given by Dr. J. H. Farley, and suggestions of Harry D. Kitson, the famous psychologist and author of a book on "How to Use Your Mind."

Prof. Kitson sent the committee a daily work schedule which was used with interesting results. It was found that girls who can make out and follow a schedule can accomplish a great deal more than the girl who cannot. A card system has been kept with a card for every freshman girl on which standings have been recorded every six weeks. On branch of the committee has helped girls with low grades. They have attempted to get into personal touch with the girls and secure the cooperation of their professors. The committee has tried to encourage the students to do the best work of which they are capable.

Notes of congratulation were sent to those girls who stood high in their classes at the end of the first six weeks. An honor roll was made containing the names of the girls receiving an average of 90 or over at the end of the first semester. The parents of these girls received notes of congratulation.

A table of statistics was worked out in collaboration with Dr. R. C. Mullen comparing high school and college grades.

The work of this commission will be continued by the girls and boys of the next freshman class, and there is a possibility that it may be extended to the other three classes.

The splendid work of the other commissions was manifested when the following chairmen read reports of the work of the year: Laura Brain, standards committee; Henrietta Ralph, religious committee, and Lois Hensel, social committee.

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR FIVE BRIDGES

Brown County Asks Outagamie County to Pave One of Its Roads.

The contracts for construction of South N. 3 bridge and of Cornelius bridge, both in the town of Oneida, were let Monday afternoon to Garvey-Weyenberg Construction Co., the former at $7,365, and the latter at $2,500.80.

The contract for the Stadler bridge in Cleora was let to Parker-Simpson Construction Co. for $2,316.60 and that of the Simon and Carthage bridge in Vandenberg to the Blake Construction Co. for $1,553.79. Henry Speister will build the McCormick bridge in Oneida, his bid, $1,984.85, being the lowest.

The contracts were awarded at a meeting of the county, state road and bridge committee at the office of the county highway commissioner at the courthouse. The ex-officio members were Fred Appleton of Oneida, Fred Drephal of Cleora, and John Diedrick of Vandenberg, the proposition being one of county and town aid.

George Carmier, county highway commissioner of Brown county, and the county, state road and bridge committee of that county were present on matters pertaining to three roads on the county line.

A short stretch of federal trunk line No. 16 between Shawano and Green Bay passes through the north-east corner of the town of Seymour and at present is receiving very little attention.

The same is true of a stretch on federal trunk line No. 54, which is a continuation in Brown county of Outagamie county trunk line G.

Brown county requests that Outagamie county pave one-fourth of a mile of the highway south of the school house at the intersection of Brown county line on trunk line No. 15 to connect with a new pavement from Wrightstown which Brown county is building.

The matter of looking after the maintenance of the two first stretches of highway and the improvement of the latter will be taken up at a joint meeting of the two county state road and bridge committees on Thursday, June 9.

The Outagamie county highway commissioner was instructed to get a survey of the Brickyard rd. the improvement of which has been delayed pending a decision of the attorney general on the legality of the funds appropriated.

Why some men seem to have all the tire luck —

YOU probably know a man whose car is a hobby with him. He knows just why it's the best little old car there is of its class.

And he'll stand up for that car against the world in any kind of an argument.

Year by year an increasing number of men feel the same way about U. S. Tires.

For a while they may try "job lot" stuff, "bargains," "big discounts" and "rebates."

But usually it doesn't take long for a man to sense the economy of the standard quality tire.

For years U. S. Tire makers have been building quality tires for sane tire users—for the car of medium or light weight no less than for the heavy car.

The tire buyers of the land have responded with a mighty U. S. Tire following.

The U. S. Tire makers meet the responsibility for supplying this nationwide following with characteristic energy.

Ninety-two U. S. Factory Branches are established, covering the entire country.

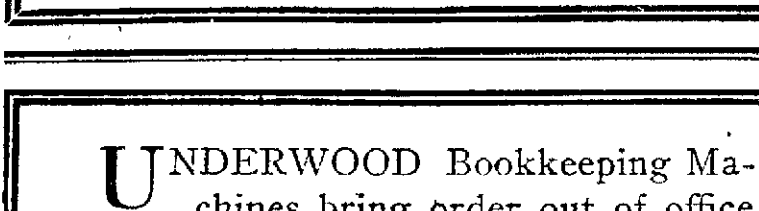

Find the U. S. Tire dealer who has the intention of serving you. You will know him by his full, completely sized line of fresh, live U. S. Tires—quality first, and the same choice of size, tread and type as in the biggest cities of the land

SLIM CHANCE FOR RESTORATION OF CHINESE MONARCHY

People Don't Want It and Heir to Throne Is Afraid of the Job.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.
Peking.—The Chinese Emperor, said an English friend at Shanghai "will be restored to his throne next Wednesday morning about sunrise. I got this information from the best inside sources and you can depend upon it absolutely. Everything has been arranged, and the Republic is done for."

This was on a Friday night. A monarch kicked off his throne and then managed to crawl back to it is rare in history and must be admitted to afford some spectacle. Therefore I took a train from Shanghai early Monday morning for Peking to get a front seat at the show.

Alas, for the vanity of prophecy! There wasn't any show. I went out to the Forbidden City Wednesday morning and saw the house where dwells the poor little neurotic descendant of a long line of Manchu kings, and there wasn't any more sign of uprising, rebellion, riot or rumormongering than there is at a prayer meeting. The English press kindly explained that as a restoration was the only logical and proper outcome of the present situation it was certain to arrive some day, perhaps next week; but this being the eighteenth time in three years that it had been scheduled and had blown up without any rain checks the spectators have lost interest and say it is a punk entertainment.

Still I cannot deny that many foreigners in Peking, including all the British, and I think the Japanese, believe that monarchy is on its way back. No doubt the thought has the same old familiar parentage in wish. The British and Japanese want the empire back because to both it is in their line of business; the British being against all republics everywhere and the Japanese thinking they can the more easily get from a monarch the concessions and other good things they are after.

Our Japanese friends, by the way, would seem to the casual eye to be doing pretty well under the present management of the show. Helped by the Twenty-one demands and the liberal use of money they look like the chief engineers, anyway. The richest thing so far discovered in all China is the province of Manchuria, in which they have certain leased and other interests, and where there are gold, iron, coal, fertile lands and other attractions. In Manchuria the unquestioned Big Boss is Chang Tso-lin, one of the strongest men in China, and it appears, so hand in glove with Japan that Japan can get anything it wants. Chang Tso-lin is now credited with a design to split off Manchuria, make of it and of Mongolia, next toward the west, an independent kingdom with himself as king and claim Japanese protection. In all of which the prophets would see the prelude of another Japanese annexation.

Possibly these delectable prospects would be bettered by Peking's restoration to monarchy; I don't know. I think nobody knows. Possibly, also, the constant intrigues for a monarchical coup may be successful; the kaleidoscope revolves so fast we hardly get a glimpse of one combination before another is whisked up for us, and of course at such a time almost anything is possible. But on one thing I will bet dollars to half-pence, if restoration comes it will not last much longer than overnight, which is about the time it endured when the last excursion of this kind was made four years ago. If somebody doesn't shoot the young emperor or blow him up with a bomb the people will chase him out of his throne before he has had a fair chance to sit down in it.

This is a phase of the situation my British friends seem unable to grasp. Here as at Peking in 1917, and Washington at all times, all they can see is officialdom. Now there isn't a doubt on earth that most of the public officers running the government here would set up a monarchy or a soviet or a town meeting or any other old thing that would be to their own personal advantage. Also there is no doubt that some of them are monarchists at heart and that it is with an eye upon a possible restoration that they keep this poor little weakling they call prince handily tucked away in the Forbidden City. They want him where they can use him if a shift in their political fortunes should make such a move advisable. That is why they appropriate $2,000,000 a year gold for his upkeep and surround him with doctors and wrap him in silk and watch the poor thing lest it should die on their hands.

All this is true enough, but what all that the foreign restorationists may plot to do or try to do will not amount to an old tobacco pipe if the passes of the Chinese people get started on a track of their own. And that exactly what they promise to be doing before long, if they are not actually at it now.

For this is the only important element in the problem. All these merry exploiters and throne rebuilders proceed upon the theory that the Chinese people are a patient ass and will stand any amount of loading. It is a natural thought in the subjects of a monarchy, and natural too, among those who have been in the exploiting game. The Chinese have stood more than any other people on earth. But patient people are the very ones to be wary of when they think they have stood enough. The Chinese seem to think they are pretty close to that situation now and personally I shouldn't advise inquiring friends to take any long chances on their patience.

It is a pity the British have so much objection to the society of rich shaw men, porters, artisans and peddlers, for these have now about the only tips that count for much. A little time spent in these circles of Chinese society with a trustworthy interpreter will put the restoration in a different light. If I were in the insurance business I don't think I should wish to insure the young pretender's life at any premium, so fierce is the hatred of him.

Even he seems to understand this better than the British who have lately sent him a member of their consular staff here to be his tutor and companion and make certain his friendship when he shall be restored about this and he said that one of many practical difficulties about effecting a restoration was the uncontrollable terrors of the claimant. He said that at any mention of going outside of the Forbidden City, to say nothing of assuming kingship, this unfortunate youth fell into violent fits of trembling and abject fear and in all probability if you were to try you couldn't get him to the throne in one piece.

But the greatest of all facts to remember now is that there is a New China. My British friends will not admit it and many another visitor holds it a dream, and yet it is there all the time. Ostensibly this ancient and sophisticated people rumbles along in the same old paths, unshakable in the belief that nothing amounts to anything except the facts of physical life. The peasants plod, men say, and the workers toil exactly as they did before. Do they?

Down in Canton they have a provincial assembly honestly elected by the votes of the people. The other day it was discussing a bill to have all local magistrates elected by popular vote instead of appointing them, when along came a great crowd of women, piled into assembly chamber and demanded woman suffrage.

Afterward, they marched to the office of the civil governor and to that of Sun Yat-sen and got from both promises of support.

At their meeting that night the women displayed banners inscribed with "Equality of the Sexes" "Give us the Vote" "Woman Suffrage for China." Another observer may be able to contemplate these and about a hundred other indications and still think China is unchanged, but I can not.

I can't think that any more than I can think the example of government popular and free from graft that Canton is now giving can fail to be both symptomatic and contagious or that out of all this chaos the sterling Chinese character will fail to find a way without reverting to the jungle.

The present Republic is flabby and uncertain, but it is a beginning, the Chinese people are not likely to turn their backs upon it, and any kind of a republic is better than any kind of a monarchy.

MAIL TRUCK COLLIDES WITH MENASHA MACHINE

A Ford mail truck collided with a motor truck belonging to the Wheel or Dray and Transfer line of Monash at Lakeport, bridge shortly after 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Both trucks were proceeding south across the bridge. The Wheeler truck, in the lead, turned east at the end of the bridge and was struck by the mail truck which was about to pass. The mail truck was badly damaged.

An unidentified young man crossing the bridge the day previous in an automobile ran into the side of the bridge near the Appleton Superior Knitting Works, demolishing a wheel. He was the only driver crossing the structure at the time.

MURPHY MAY RECOVER FROM AUTO INJURIES

There is a possibility that James Murphy, mechanic at Puth garage who was seriously injured when an automobile turned turtle Sunday, may recover. Information received by his fellow workers indicates that he regained consciousness and showed a slight improvement.

Just what Mr. Murphy's injuries are have not been determined. It is said that his stomach was badly hurt by the steering wheel when the crash came. His physician believes there is a chance for recovery unless further complications develop.

ROTARIANS SEE
SCOUT EXHIBIT

Activities of the boys' work committee of the Rotary club for the coming year were outlined by Louis Bonini, chairman, at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. Support of the boy scout movement was what he emphasized as the most important task for the Rotary club to carry out.

A scouting demonstration followed by one of the local troops, led by J. R. Henderson, scout executive. The scout oath and laws were recited, and the boys exhibited their knowledge of general uses of handkerchiefs, Morse and semaphore signaling and other scout teachings. One of their number explained the merit badge test system and stated that one Appleton scout has won 23 of these.

The date of the annual meeting of the Rotary club was set for June 21. It will be an evening gathering at a place to be announced later. A speaker will be obtained from Milwaukee.

MILLION MARK IS NEARING IN DRIVE

Thirty additional parishes reporting to Gustave Keller, campaign chairman, have swelled the total subscriptions toward the million dollar fund of Green Bay Catholic diocese to $835,426.50. This amount has been raised in 143 out of 221 parishes, and no deamery out of the 14 says its report is final. With approximately 80 parishes to hear from, Mr. Keller believes the goal of the campaign will be achieved. Churches are given all this week to complete their canvass.

Mr. Peterson said that even at ten cents a pound lard is not as cheap as it was twenty years ago when hogs sold at from $2.25 to $2.75 per hundredweight. At one time during the war lard went up to over 30 cents per pound.

Former Appleton Resident Writes About Dodge Car
Edward P. Humphrey of California, Writes the Walter Implement & Auto Co.

Walter Implement Co., Appleton, Wisconsin, Gentlemen:

I expect to go back to Appleton on a visit the coming summer, arriving about August 1, and if possible should like to get a Dodge Sedan or Coupe, preferably the former, for use for a couple of months while there. I don't care to buy one of these cars, but would like to rent one, if possible. I am writing you considerably in advance to ask if it will be possible for me to get a car of this kind through you in the way stated. If I can't get a Dodge I suppose I will have to try for something else, but would prefer a Dodge. My Dodge Sedan has now gone about 25,000 miles in California—and among other things it has the original tires are still on the front wheels. I had them retreaded after they had seen 25,000 miles, and they seem good for an indefinite number more miles. Of course you understand out here tires don't have to fight Wisconsin crushed stone roads. The rear tires went 16,000 miles before replacement. Every one says the motor is the smoothest proposition they ever saw. I had the valves ground after the car had gone 13,000 miles, and nothing has been touched since, and so far I can say the motor runs as well as it ever did. One reason I think is that I have the carburetor needle valve adjusted for so lean a mixture that no carbon accumulates. I get a trifle better than 23 miles to the gallon, which is going some for a 3650 pound car. It is rumored out here that Dodge cars are going to take a drop in price July 1.

Hop you are all prospering. Faithfully yours, Edward P. Humphrey.

FOUR GOOD BOUTS ON MENASHA CARD

Boxing Matches Will Feature Convention Entertainment
Tonight.

Twenty rounds of fine action and eight rounds of exhibition boxing is the Menasha card for tonight which the Menasha Athletic Association of Menasha has arranged for the entertainment of Eagles in attendance at the local convention there this week. The event will be held in the S. A. Cook armory. This is the program:

Jack Zwick of Kaukauna vs. "Happy" Fritz Johnson of Neenah, four rounds.

Willie Lewis vs. Eddie Bump, four rounds.

Ray Dempsey vs. Jabber Jinn, ten rounds.

"Batling" Benz vs. "Chuck" Remick, ten rounds.

Dempsey has been in training in the Eagles' club gymnasium in Milwaukee under his manager Jack Redmond, for the last few weeks and is said to be in fine fettle and prepared to give June a hard contest. Jinn, although not as well known as his opponent, is a promising aspirant for pugilistic honors.

Benz, who will appear in the second main feature, is a Milwaukee proter with ambitions. Remick, opposing him, is Neenah's own favorite and the result is being awaited with much interest. The preliminary bouts have shown up well in their appearances in local rings, with the exception of Johnson who is making his debut. Remick of the event will go to the Eagles' convention fund.

Sport Views And News

Oshkosh baseball fans gave the Brandts a fine razzberry during Sunday's game when the home crew went up in the air over a couple of bum decisions by the umpire. Several of the players want to quit but they were persuaded to go on but they were pretty sore about it. It doesn't do much good to carry a temper into a ball game because it means the other fellow will try just that much harder to get the nappy and that is what happened in Oshkosh. The Overalls scored six runs and copped the game before Brandts got down to earth.

This man Carpenter who came over here to fight Dempsey must be a queer bird. Who ever heard of a boxer crawling into his shell and kicking out newspaper men who want to make money for him. Either Georges hasn't anything to show and is afraid that criticism of the sports-writers will have an adverse effect on the attendance July 2 or he has a lot of stuff he wants to keep under cover and spring a surprise on Jack in Jersey City. The extreme confidence which permeates the camp of Georges' enemy apparently is not noticeable at Manhasset, judging from Descamps' declaration that it is all a gamble.

Not very many weeks ago there were a lot of dope followers who had it all figured out that Walter Johnson, Washington's star hurler, was about through. He got off to a bad start this season and they were working on his sports obituary when he suddenly came back and is going about as good

"Barrel Roller" Sets Jump Record

Urbana, Ill.—Dewey V. Alberts, lanky skyball of the University of Illinois, executes an almost perfect barrel roll in high jumping.

His feet clear the bar first, then he carries his body over horizontally, giving him a roll like a barrel.

He has won seven out of eight meets he has competed in this year.

His one defeat came on June 4 in the Western Conference meet at Chicago when he fell below all his former marks. Johnny Murphy of Notre Dame winning with a leap of 6 feet 2 1/2 inches. Alberts tied for second with a jump of 5 feet 5 1/2 inches, made in the Illinois-Wisconsin meet. This comes within 2 1/2 inches of the world's high jump record.

This is his last year at the university. He has joined the Chicago Athletic Club and will compete with the Cherry Creek on graduation.

Students at Lincoln College where he was a student before entering Illinois credit Alberts with attaining his present skill to his daily stunt of leaping over the upright piano at the college canteen.

His jump of 5 feet 5 1/2 inches broke the career western and national collegiate record.

Alberts' record string of victories in meets this season are:

Feb. 19—At South Bend, Illinois vs. Notre Dame, first, 6 ft. 3 1/2 inches.

March 5—At Urbana, Illinois relay carnival, first, 6 ft. 3 1/2 in.

March 12—At Evanston, Big Ten Conference, first, 6 ft. 4 1/2 in.

April 30—At Philadelphia, Penn. games, first, 6 ft. 2 1/2 in.

May 1—At South Bend, Illinois vs. Notre Dame, first, 6 ft. 4 in.

May 12—At Urbana, Illinois vs. Michigan, first, 6 ft. 3 1/2 in.

May 20—At Urbana, Illinois vs. Wisconsin, first, 6 ft. 5 1/2 in.

No records approaching Alberts' figures have been made this year with the consistency he has shown.

NEED X-RAY TO SEE GEORGES IN ACTION

Wierd Tales of Challenger's Activities Trickle From His Camp.

Manhasset, L. I.—We need X-rays and spy glasses to get a look at the Frenchman now.

Outside of the road work that he takes through the woods, he is keeping himself under cover.

When Carpenter goes on the road now he has an advance guard to clear the path of photographers since an occurrence the other day. A movie man hid his camera in some weeds along the "line of march" and got about 500 feet of the French champion and his party coming down the road before they heard the click of the camera. They made a dash for him but he was too fast and got away with the film. Since then they're watching all the time.

Gus Wilson, who hands out news when he is not rubbing the Frenchman, pressing his clothes, etc., handed us a hot one. The other day Carpenter saw a rabbit in the woods and decided he would be a nice souvenir.

So he ran down the cottontail after a thrilling chase and grabbed him by the ears on the fly. The Frenchman sure is an all around athlete. We haven't seen a thing of the new sparring partners. Italian Joe Gans told us in a pinocchio game that some were coming but he's getting as tight mouthed as Descamps, the famous "no, no, get out" man.

We asked Descamps if Carpenter would go after Dempsey's bad eye. "You be in Jersey City July 2 and you see what we do. We not say or you not see before," he answered.

BUILD BLEACHERS IN BRANDT PARK

Bleachers that will seat 500 people are to be erected along the third base line of the Brandt park in time for the game with Oshkosh June 19, according to C. A. Lampert of the Brandts.

Hertofore the grandstand offered the only seating accommodation and having a capacity of about 1,500, was entirely inadequate for the large crowds which have been patronizing the national game here. On this account there has been a request for more seating, and although the cost of constructing the bleachers is considerable, no fee will be charged for their use.

Rumors of changes in the Brandt's lineup are not authentic. Mr. Lampert said Tuesday. Nevertheless he hunted for changes if the results of next Sunday's game with Kimberly are not satisfactory.

As ever. These same crape hangars now have it doped out that Grover Cleveland Alexander, ace of the Cubs' staff and war hero, is through. They charge his arm is gone and that from now on he cannot be counted as a consistent winner. Perhaps they are about as near right as they were about Johnson.

Benny Leonard, lightweight champ, is foolish. Foolish like a fox. Monday night he let Rocky Kansas, Buffalo whirlwind, hit him with everything he had for eleven rounds and then came back and pounded the stuffings out of the challenger and earned a decision. From this distance it looks as if Benny was kidding Rocky and the fans with an eye on another scrap and a bigger purse in which Rocky will hit the canvas in pretty short order.

Watching The Scoreboard

Tuesday's hero—Brower.

The Washington fielder singled in the tenth inning beating Detroit, 3 to 2.

Hellman hit a homer.

Rogers Hornsby hit two homers and Fournier, Griffith and Krueger got one apiece, the Cardinals beating the Robins, 14 to 5.

The Yanks plastered Coveleskie off the mound and beat the Indians, 9 to 2.

Rube Marquard baffled the Giants and the Reds won, 6 to 0.

The Giants, however, slipped into a tie with the Pirates for the lead.

Oeschger's single helped to win his own game when the Braves beat the Pirates, 10 to 7.

Irish Meusel hit his tenth homer but the Phils lost to the Cubs, 3 to 6.

Vitte's double, Collins' sacrifice and Pratt's sacrifice fly gave the Red Sox a 7 to 6 win over the Browns.

Combings from collies and other long-haired dogs have been made into yarn and garments.

The teacher shortage last year caused the closing of 20,000 schools in the United States.

PLANS FOR FIGHT HERE CALLED OFF

Inability to Obtain Army
Make Postponement Necessary.

Hopes for another splendid boxing card here this season were blasted when Promoter Elmer Johnston of the Midwest Athletic club was informed that the army would not be available until fall because of redecoration now in progress. It had been planned to hold the fight July 2 but it now is necessary to postpone it until autumn.

Arrangements had practically been completed to bring Johnny Dundee and Richie Mitchell here for a 10 round war. This bout would have attracted attention all over the country and undoubtedly would have resulted in a record breaking crowd. Johnston will keep the boys on his list, however, and probably will book the fight for next season.

There is a possibility that two of the greatest stars in the wrestling game will be brought here for a bout in Brandt park on the night of July 4. Promoter Johnston is trying to arrange the card and expects to be ready to make an announcement in the near future. He says that if it is arranged it will be the biggest bout in the state in many years.

Lake Erie is 330 feet higher than Lake Ontario.

WESTERN OARSMEN RACE FAVORITES

University of California Crew
Expected to Make Excellent Showing.

By Henry L. Farrell

By United Press. Leased Wire. New York.—California's sturdy eight has a good chance to add to the glory already piled up for the Pacific coast by winning the intercollegiate rowing championship.

It is known that the big, husky coast youngsters can go the three mile distance at a high stroke.

It seems sure that before June 22 when the candidates for the championship go to the mark at Poughkeepsie that several faults in the form of the far westerners will have been corrected.

California showed in the race it lost to Princeton that it is a long distance crew and is not suited or built for sprinting. There is a world of power in the shell. With the possible exception of Navy's 1920 crew, no finer, better looking specimens of manhood have been seen in a shell in the east. Much of the great power and strength of the crew, however, was lost in the Princeton race by a stroke which seems to discourage the use of the leg drive.

California forced Princeton to a new record to win the race last Saturday over a mile and three-quarters but the coast crew finished just as fresh as the victors and looked good for three miles at the same pace.

Columbia, perhaps, being an undefeated crew and one of the best ever developed at the New York institution, will be the favorite. The navy eight also must be considered but there is doubt in the ability of the midshipmen to go the distance. It is principally a sprint crew that has been going over short distances.

DEMPSEY'S SORE EYE HALTS HIS BOXING

Atlantic City, N. J.—Jack Dempsey will get into the heaviest boxing of his training as soon as his injured eye heals.

Manager Kearns is back in camp with the announcement that he has a string of new sparring partners to keep the champion busy as soon as he can put the gloves on again.

Dempsey planned to continue his road work and gymnasium exercises Wednesday. The cut is healing rapidly over his eye and he may be able to start boxing several days sooner than was expected.

Attends Convention

W. J. Konrad, cashier of the Citizens National bank, is spending the day in Green Bay, attending the convention of group No. 3, Wisconsin Bankers association.

Insider Says

Hornsby and Hellman are the "H" leaders of the major leagues with the stick.

Frank Ellerbe is hitting his head off since he swapped a Washington uniform for a Brown one.

Urban Faber is the first big league pitcher to win 10 games this year.

Gavvy Cravath, Honus Wagner and Babe Ruth are the only three major league players ever to make more than 100 homers during their careers.

That hitting doesn't win ball games is proved in the fact that the Tigers and Cards are leading their leagues in hitting, but not in the standings.

They haven't any 400 hitters in the International League yet this season. Jack Bentley of the Orioles is leading with a .304 average.

Man o' War, like many other champions, may try a comeback. Louis Feustel, the horse's trainer, believes the Mahubah colt could do a mile in 1:32 at Belmont track now.

Charles Paddock hasn't run his swiftest yet, according to Boyd Comstock, former trainer of the Californian.

Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, believes Judge Landis—not E. B. Johnson—should have the say about pitchers using rosin.

Tex Rickard will send out a word picture of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight by wireless telephone to more than 100 cities. It may be short and end with a thud.

England is praising our polo players. They praised our golfers, too, before they played 'em.

Little Henry Ford will be one of the big guys at the ringside on July 2. He doesn't expect a flivver match.

Last year Italy sent us 2,640,000 pounds of lemon peel in brine for the manufacture of marmalade.

And get more genuine chewing satisfaction, when you use this class of tobacco.

This is because the full, rich, real tobacco taste lasts so long, you don't need a fresh chew nearly as often.

And a small chew gives more real satisfaction than a big chew of the ordinary kind ever did.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

CHINESE BANDITS LOOT TREATY PORT

By United Press Leased Wire
 Hankow, China.—Mutinous Chinese troops have looted and partially burned Ichang, a treaty port 165 miles northwest of here, for the second time in six months, according to official reports reaching Hankow.
 American, British and Japanese gunboats have been dispatched to Ichang where they are expected to arrive Tuesday.
 Consular reports indicate that attempts to check troops in reported opium smuggling operations caused the uprising.
 The offices of the Robert Dollar Steamship and Trading interests, Arnold Brothers, the Bank of China and other foreign firms were looted.
 The customs house and Japanese consulate were damaged.
 Casualties have not been determined but are expected to exceed those of the November mutiny at Ichang where sixty were killed and two million dollars in property destroyed.

Miss Lee Beelan of Evanston, Ill., is visiting at the home of W. M. Weyenberg of Grand Chute.

Race Riot At Tulsa Is Blot On America's Name

Former President Taft Blames Whites for Shameful Attack on Negroes.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT
 Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Co.

Philadelphia.—The accounts of the race riots in Tulsa, Okla., are shocking. They create the same feeling of hopelessness as the news from Ireland. That with a startling suddenness and without warning a bloody battle could break out in the center of a city of 75,000 and a hundred deaths follow is hard to credit or understand. There must have been many circumstances from which intelligent observers living in Tulsa ought to have anticipated danger.

Steps should have been taken by prominent citizens, white and colored, to allay fear and suspicion on both sides. Committees of leading white and colored citizens in other cities where danger threatens have been active to spread among their respective constituencies assurances that there is no real danger of attack by the other side and that the only danger is from misunderstanding. In this way a riot at Birmingham was avoided.

In every such community there are in both races, knots of groups of lawless and cruel men, who seize the opportunity of race trouble to gratify their natural instinct toward violence, murder and rapine and become leaders of the contending sides into which are drawn by fear or excitement many otherwise law abiding citizens.

No matter whether it was a Negro or a white man who began the initial fight, one cannot escape the conclusion that the awful character of this cruel massacre was largely due to the outrageous malevolence and cruelty of the whites who took part in the conflict. This is clearly indicated by the number of the Negro dead as compared with the dead whites, by the wholesale destruction and looting of the Negro settlement and business quarter, by the fact that white men prevented the effort of the city fire department to put out the flames and by the present suffering and homelessness of thousands of Negroes of Tulsa.

This does not excuse of course, the propaganda which some Negro papers are pressing among their readers, inciting them to physical force in the assertion of their equality of right and fanning their passions and their fears by detailed recital of wrongs to Negroes in every part of the country. Race pride and confidence in the prowess of Negro veterans of the late war have been stirred to add the excitement.

First Woman Rural Carrier Begins Duties

Miss Hazel Rohm Receives Appointment as Substitute on Father's Route.

Young men on the farm probably will prefer to come tripping down the path each day to get the mail, instead of letting sister jolly the mailman. The reason for this is that Appleton postoffice is to have its first lady rural mail carrier, Miss Hazel Rohm.

Miss Rohm has been appointed substitute carrier on rural route No. 5, which has been carried for years by her father, Robert Rohm. The young lady taught school at Freedom during the last year and wanted to keep busy during vacation period. She decided a woman could carry mail as well as a man, and intends to relieve her father while he takes his vacation. The fair carrier began the task Tuesday of learning the work of a rural mailman.

Everette Johnston, Alma Bueller, Martin Proehl, Maynard Sherman, Irene Zobel.

Dale, graded: Orla Oelke, Evelyn Philipp, Alberta Schulteis, Leland Hamselman.

ANOTHER 2-DAY HOLIDAY IS COMING IN THREE WEEKS

July 4 comes on Monday this year, three weeks from next Monday, and practically everyone will enjoy a two days' vacation. Owners of automobiles are already planning long trips, some of whom will take their departure the previous Saturday noon. Nothing has been done about a celebration and the chances are there will be none. In such event it is almost certain the city will be deserted.

Carnival at Waverly

The Great White Way Shows, a carnival, has been engaged to appear at Waverly beach beginning June 13 for a limited time. The company is said to be exceptionally complete and contains many unusual attractions. The beach was formally opened last Sunday and the crowds are large.

LAUSMAN GIVES LAUGH TO FRIDAY LUCK STORY

Charles Lausman, 555 Cherry st., is convinced that all this talk about Friday and the thirteenth being unlucky is bunk. On Friday, May 13, Mr. Lausman placed 13 eggs under a setting hen and crossed his fingers. Last Friday 13 chicks were hatched out of the 13 eggs and all are doing fine. Lausman contends that the cluck which hatched the eggs also was hatched out on Friday.

Summer Floors

Of course floors are no different in summer than at any other time of the year. A beautiful rug on your floor makes a beautiful room on any day.

June this year is a mighty good month in which to buy rugs—the prices tell you that. No doubt many people have waited for several years to see these prices again and now they are going to buy.

A beautiful rug has ceased to be a luxury with the lowering of prices—it is now a necessity; for on the rug depends too the atmosphere of the whole room.

These especially low levels will maintain on present stocks until all are sold.

Velvet Rugs

A short time ago we made a very large purchase of Blue Ribbon velvet rugs. The quantity secured unusually favorable price concessions which are reflected in these greatly lowered prices.
